Introduction:

A seminar on IPR was organized by the Brahma Valley Institute Of Management on October 7, 2017 in the college Seminar Hall. Adv. Sunil Gadge was the resource person. He gave a brief introduce Intellectual property is a category of property that includes intangible creations of the human intellect, and primarily encompasses copyrights, patents, and trademarks. It also includes other types of rights, such as trade secrets, publicity rights, moral rights, and rights against unfair competition. Artistic works like music and literature, as well as some discoveries, inventions, words, phrases, symbols, and designs can all be protected as intellectual property. The main purpose of intellectual property law is to encourage the creation of a wide variety of intellectual goods. Intellectual property rights refer to the general term for the assignment of property rights through patents, copyrights and trademarks. These property rights allow the holder to exercise a monopoly on the use of the item for a specified periodion on IPR and explained the various related terms such as copyrights, patents

Introduction:

Business research refers to systematic collection and analysis of data with the purpose of finding answers to problems facing management. It can be carried out with the objective to explore, to describe or to diagnose a phenomenon. It involves establishing objectives and gathering relevant information to obtain the answer to a business issue and it can be conducted to answer a business-related question, such as: What is the target market of my product? Business research can also be used to solve a business-related problem, such as determining how to decrease the amount of excess inventory on hand.

Objectives of Programme:

- Introduce a set of research tools used for collecting and processing data, as well as to research design and the ways in which academic work can be presented
- Assist the students with the writing of their third-year thesis
- To enable the participants in conducting research work and formulating research synopsis and report.

Academic Year-2018-19
Name of Programme	Seminar on innovative higher education pedagogy
Day and Date	19 th January 2019
Venue	M.B.A Seminar Hall
Name of Resource Persons	Dr. Vasudev Raut Dr. Waykos Snehal
Name of Cell	Start-Up and Innovation cell
Name of Coordinator	Prof. Jivan Ahire

Introduction:

There is a widespread notion that educational systems should empower learners with skills and competences to cope with a constantly changing landscape. Reference is often made to skills such as critical thinking, problem solving, collaborative skills, innovation, digital literacy, and adaptability. What is negotiable is how best to achieve the development of those skills, in particular which teaching and learning approaches are suitable for facilitating or enabling complex skills development. In this paper, we build on our previous work of exploring new forms of pedagogy for an interactive world, as documented in our Innovating Pedagogy report series. We present a set of innovative pedagogical approaches that have the potential to guide teaching and transform learning

Objectives of Programme:

- Discuss the growth of the private higher education sector and its distinct role in educational innovation and in developing the skills of traditional and adult students
- Map innovation in the private higher education sector in both organizational and pedagogical areas
- Provide a forum for higher education institutions to share experiences on their explicit or implicit educational innovation strategies

Introduction:

One of the challenges that a career woman faces is the glass ceiling. So, isn't it wonderful to come across real-life stories of women who have simply powered through this barrier? Examples in corporate / government / military life are a-plenty, but what about the agriculture sector? It is therefore extremely encouraging to look at the number of women, forums, programs and even government schemes that are going a long way in giving women in agriculture a stronger voice and presence

Objectives of Programme:

- Discuss the growth of the private higher education sector and its distinct role in educational innovation and in developing the skills of traditional and adult students
- Map innovation in the private higher education sector in both organizational and pedagogical areas
- Provide a forum for higher education institutions to share experiences on their explicit or implicit educational innovation strategies

Introduction:

In today's globally competitive environment, intellectual property has placed itself on a pedestal in the context of economic growth and is becoming increasingly important. Intellectual Property (IP) is the fuel that powers the engine of prosperity, fostering invention and innovation. The increasing significance of intangible assets in the global economy is forcing business organizations to actively manage their IP as a key driver for building and sustaining their competitive advantage and achieving superior performance. This lecture was initiated by indicating the connotation of the terminologies – IP and IPR. The legal basis of IPR and then various forms were discussed. The ethos and process vs product patents, trade secret protection, designs, copyrights etc., and the basis of the expectance of various IPR. Problems were discussed the types of patents such as biotech patent, plant patent, utility patent, software patent, business method patent, nano-tech patent, design pattern were elaborated. The wealth of patents in developed countries like USA, Japan and Europe are projected and compared with

Points	Entrepreneur	Manager
1. Status	The most notable of an entrepreneur is to begin a venture for his personal gratification.	Main motive of a manager is to render services to an enterprise already set for commercial end.
2. Status	Owner	Employee
3. Risk	Assumes the uncertainty	Manager does not bear any risk involved in enterprise
4. Research	Public, which is highly uncertain and new field	Private which is certain and fixed
5. Innovation	Entrepreneur himself thinks over what and how to produce goods to meet the changing needs of the customers, hence he acts as innovator - change agent	A manager simply develops plans prepared by the entrepreneur
6. Qualification	An entrepreneur needs to possess qualities and qualifications like high achievement motive, innovativeness, thinking, knowledge, risk bearing etc.	A manager needs to possess desired qualifications in terms of sound knowledge in management, finance, marketing etc.

Below the slide, the text "Chandramouli is presenting" is visible. On the right side of the interface, there are several participant icons and names: "Pooja", "You" (with a red circle containing 'S'), "Jayoc" (with a red circle containing 'J'), and "81 others". A video feed of a man, identified as Chandramouli, is also visible in the center-right area.
